

INTERNATIONAL PRODUCT MANAGER

Posted on 18 mars, 2026

Company Name Mediplast

Location Malmö

Job Description

Are you passionate about quality, regulatory assurance, and driving business growth? Mediplast is seeking a meticulous and business-minded Product Manager to take international responsibility for our Own Brand portfolio. In this key role, you will work closely with our own production, ensuring that all products meet the highest standards while supporting commercial success and developing the portfolio to meet evolving market needs. You will be part of a dedicated team of Product Managers who focus on Mediplast Own Brand, and you will collaborate closely with the QA department to ensure compliance and continuous improvement.

Key Responsibilities

Portfolio Management & Development: Take ownership of the Mediplast Own Brand product portfolio. Continuously analyze market trends and customer needs to develop and optimize the portfolio, ensuring it remains competitive and relevant.

Quality & Regulatory Assurance: Collaborate closely with the QA/RA team to ensure all products comply with relevant standards and regulations. Take responsibility for post-market surveillance activities, ensuring systematic collection, analysis, and reporting of product performance and safety data in line with applicable regulatory requirements.

Production Collaboration: Work directly with our Sourcing team to ensure products are developed, manufactured, and maintained according to required specifications and standards.

Business Support & Growth: Support the sales organization by providing expert knowledge and training on Mediplast Own Brand products. Identify opportunities for growth within your segment and actively contribute to commercial strategies.

Training & Education: Deliver training sessions to the sales force, ensuring they are well-equipped to represent and sell our products effectively.

Cross-functional Collaboration: Engage with internal stakeholders across production, sales, and quality to drive continuous improvement and innovation within the Own Brand portfolio.

About You

You have a solid administrative background and a keen eye for details. We believe you have previous experience as a Product Manager or within QA/RA. You are structured and reliable, but also clearly business-oriented, enjoy partnering with sales, and are driven by building and developing a competitive product portfolio that meets customer needs and supports profitable growth. Experience from the MedTech industry and/or healthcare is a strong advantage.

Other Requirements

- Fluency in English and Swedish (written and spoken)
- Valid driver's license
- Ability to travel as required for the role
- Effective communication and collaboration skills

At Mediplast, it is essential that you contribute to a healthy company culture characterized by humility, helpfulness, respect, strong personal responsibility, and a clear focus on the patient and healthcare professionals.

We are looking forward to reading your application!
