

SALES MANAGER, SWEDEN (STOCKHOLM & NORTH)

Posted on 7 oktober, 2025

Company Name Bonesupport AB

Location Stockholm

Job Description

Are you a driven sales professional with a passion for medtech and orthobiologics? BONESUPPORT is hiring a Sales Manager to strengthen our presence in Stockholm and the northern region and to accelerate growth for our innovative CERAMENT® platform.

Role overview

You will:

- Drive revenue growth and expand the customer base.
- Build strong, sustainable relationships with Key Opinion Leaders (KOLs) and healthcare professionals.
- Educate and train users on the clinical and economic benefits of CERAMENT®.
- Plan and execute customer visits, workshops, and events.
- Deliver accurate forecasts, market insights, and KPI reports.
- Record activities and opportunities in Salesforce daily.
- Collaborate closely with colleagues across Sales, Medical Affairs, and other functions.

About you

You are commercially driven, self-motivated, and structured. You excel at building relationships, creating new opportunities, and navigating complex sales environments. You have:

- 5+ years' experience engaging orthopaedic surgeons, including work with trauma and infection-related products.
- A relevant degree or equivalent experience with the ability to interpret clinical studies.
- A proven track record of proactively creating and closing sales opportunities.
- Experience with Salesforce or a comparable CRM.
- Fluency in Swedish and English, written and spoken.

- Experience with chronic osteomyelitis, foot & ankle, limb salvage, and revision arthroplasty/PJI (advantageous).

What we offer

- A dynamic, international environment in a fast-growing medtech company.
- The opportunity to represent a unique and innovative product portfolio.
- A supportive team culture with mentoring and knowledge sharing.
- A competitive total-rewards package.

Why BONESUPPORT?

We are transforming bone disease management through our proprietary CERAMENT® platform. Join us to make a real impact on patients' lives while shaping the future of orthobiologics.
